

The American Academy of Psychotherapists
Invites You to Our Fall Salon in Charlotte, NC.
“What’s love got to do with it?”:

Saturday, September 17th, 1:00– 5 pm, at the office of:

Elizabeth E. Field, MA, 1001 Elizabeth Ave Suite 1B Charlotte, NC 28204

Please join us for a gathering of local psychotherapists, new and old, members and non-members, as we discuss our lives, our work, and our relationships with one another in a confidential large-group format.

Matthew Leary, PhD and Elizabeth Field, MA will start an hour long group process at 1:30pm to examine our erotic transference and countertransference as it refers to the work of psychotherapy. The experiential components of this salon will continue with a, 90 minute process group beginning at 2:30 pm facilitated by Jack Mulgrew, PhD. Followed by refreshments, hors d’oeuvres and mingling.

Our Salon theme, What’s Love Got to Do with It? has been chosen based on the theme of the American Academy of Psychotherapist Institute and Conference (AAP I&C), which will take place in Washington, DC, October 19-23.

The group process can be used as an introduction to the conference, where psychotherapists will be invited to look at relationship, love and connection in both therapist and patient.

The mission of the American Academy of Psychotherapists is to invigorate and support the psychotherapist's quest for excellence and growth through authentic interpersonal engagement. We value the therapist-client relationship as fundamental to the psychotherapy process, and are committed to developing ourselves as authentic human beings. We see this as foundational to healing in therapeutic relationships.

Elizabeth E. Field, MA- Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist. Attending AAP since 1999 and a member since 2001. Charlotte, NC Native. Has been in private for four years in Charlotte, NC and practicing psychotherapy since 1998. I enjoy the growth potential that can happen in authentic communication with the other.

Matthew Leary, PhD. - Attending AAP since 2000 and a member since 2001. Has been Practicing in Charlotte, NC for 6 years. I enjoy experiencing the depths and intensity of emotion in myself and my patients when dealing with life struggles.

Jack P. Mulgrew, PhD. - Jack is a long time member of the Academy. He is interested in focusing on the interpersonal relationships between the individuals in the process group. He believes when two people get together and they are observed by a therapist, they are no different than when they are with their partners.
