

American Academy of Psychotherapists (AAP)
Salon in Nashville
Saturday, May 2nd 2020
9:00 am to 12:30 pm

The Music City Chapter of the American Academy of Psychotherapists (AAP) presents a Spring Salon in Nashville, Tennessee. This salon will be hosted by Dan Goldstein and Renee Burwell and will be held at the offices of Nashville Psych in Hillsboro Village at 2200 21st Avenue S, Suite 306, on Saturday, April 18th, from 9:00 am to 12:30 pm. Nashville area therapists who are motivated by personal growth are especially encouraged to attend. The event is open to AAP Members and non-members.

At 9:00 am, enjoy light refreshments, learn more about AAP and network with local colleagues. At 9:30 am, join Dan Goldstein and Renee Burwell in a 2.5 hour process group. This group will revolve around the theme: "A Seat at the Table". As therapists and healers, we are the ones who see the unseen, and bring light to the dark. In our work we cannot escape the underbellies that power and privilege have in creating disconnection and harm mentally, emotionally, and socially for clients and ourselves. In a divisive world how do we address inclusion and diversity within ourselves? What are the cost-benefits emotionally and socially to diversity and inclusion? What is our responsibility in creating a seat at the table? Participants will use this processing group to discuss our internal dialogue in holding and creating space for others and ourselves.

We will wrap up at noon and answer any questions about becoming a part of the AAP community.

There is no charge for this event, but please RSVP to Dan Goldstein at dan@nashvillepsych.com
